

Leading Caregiver Marketplace HomeCare.com Raises $11M to Accelerate Growth

McLean, VA February 7, 2018

HomeCare.com announced today it has closed a new $11m round led by 3TS Capital Partners, Blue Heron Capital, Maryland Venture Fund, and Private Access Network. With the largest base of mobile-enabled caregivers, HomeCare.com is the leading platform where consumers and health care providers go to find and hire experienced caregivers. The capital will be used to support the company's rapid growth, expand geographically, and add new product offerings.

HomeCare.com is revolutionizing the home care market by identifying the highest quality caregivers, allowing families to tailor care for their exact needs, and providing unprecedented visibility and reporting into the care provided. Experienced caregivers choose HomeCare.com because the platform combines the flexibility of being self-employed with the ability for caregivers to choose opportunities that match their experience level, skills sets and schedule. The company's products and mobile applications assist with the entire care process, including real-time visit alerts, automated time-tracking and digital payments.

In addition to helping families, HomeCare.com also provides caregiver services to some of the largest hospital systems, senior nursing facilities and assisted living corporations in the country.

Todd Walrath, Founder and CEO of HomeCare.com said, "We started HomeCare.com to provide a platform through which families hiring caregivers have a dramatically improved care-at-home experience compared to the traditional home care agency model. We are confident our new investors will help us accelerate toward building a global brand, based on their experience in scaling e-commerce companies."

3TS Partner Sever Totia, who led the investment and joins the Company's board of directors, added, "Todd has a clear vision for why HomeCare.com is critically important and how the company will grow as the new model for care-at-home services. The Company has already established itself as a market leader and is experiencing explosive growth as a result. We are excited to join Todd and his team on the HomeCare.com journey and look forward to help scale the Company in and outside the US market."
